Adult star Nikki Benz has signed on to promote TheScreamingO.com.

Benz's first promotional appearance on the company's behalf will be at the upcoming Erotica LA convention. The Screaming O is the Southern California-based adult toy manufacturer of the Big O.

"I'm really excited to be able to branch out with some new companies like this," said Benz, who recently became an independent performer.

The Screaming O will showcase its line of vibrating rings at the event June 23-25 at the Los Angeles Convention Center.

"We couldn't be happier," said Keith Caggiano of The Screaming O, which launched last year with rings specifically designed to pleasure both sexes.

When asked if she would be demonstrating Screaming O product at the booth, Benz said coyly, "No one who comes will be disappointed."
